

One, two, three, four, five

One, two, three, four, five
Once I caught a fish alive.
Six, seven, eight, nine, ten
Then I let it go again.
Why did you let it go?
Because it bit my finger so.
Which finger did it bite?
This little finger on the right.

About the rhyme

This counting rhyme about a fish that bites can be sung or said.

Activities

- Use your fingers to count as you sing or say the rhyme. Do actions to match the other words.
- Use a stick and a piece of string to make a fishing rod. Pretend to go fishing together.
- Draw and cut out ten fish. Point to them and count them as you say or sing the rhyme together. Choose one fish to be the one that bites the little finger on your right hand!
